A. Hartmann Jr. May 1957
Boston: Nedany, Ed.

MY HEART'S BEST TREASURE,

A FAREWELL SERENADE,

THE POETRY BY

LAVINIA,

THE MUSIC BY

JOSEPH PHILIP KNIGHT. 1812-1887

ENT. STA. HALL.

PRICE 2/

LONDON,

PUBLISHED BY BALLS & SON, 403, OXFORD STREET.

M1631
.K57
F3
1800x

Digitized by the Internet Archive in 2016

https://archive.org/details/farewellserenade00knig

THE FAREWELL SERENADE.

Poetry by Lavinia. Music by Joseph Philip Knight.

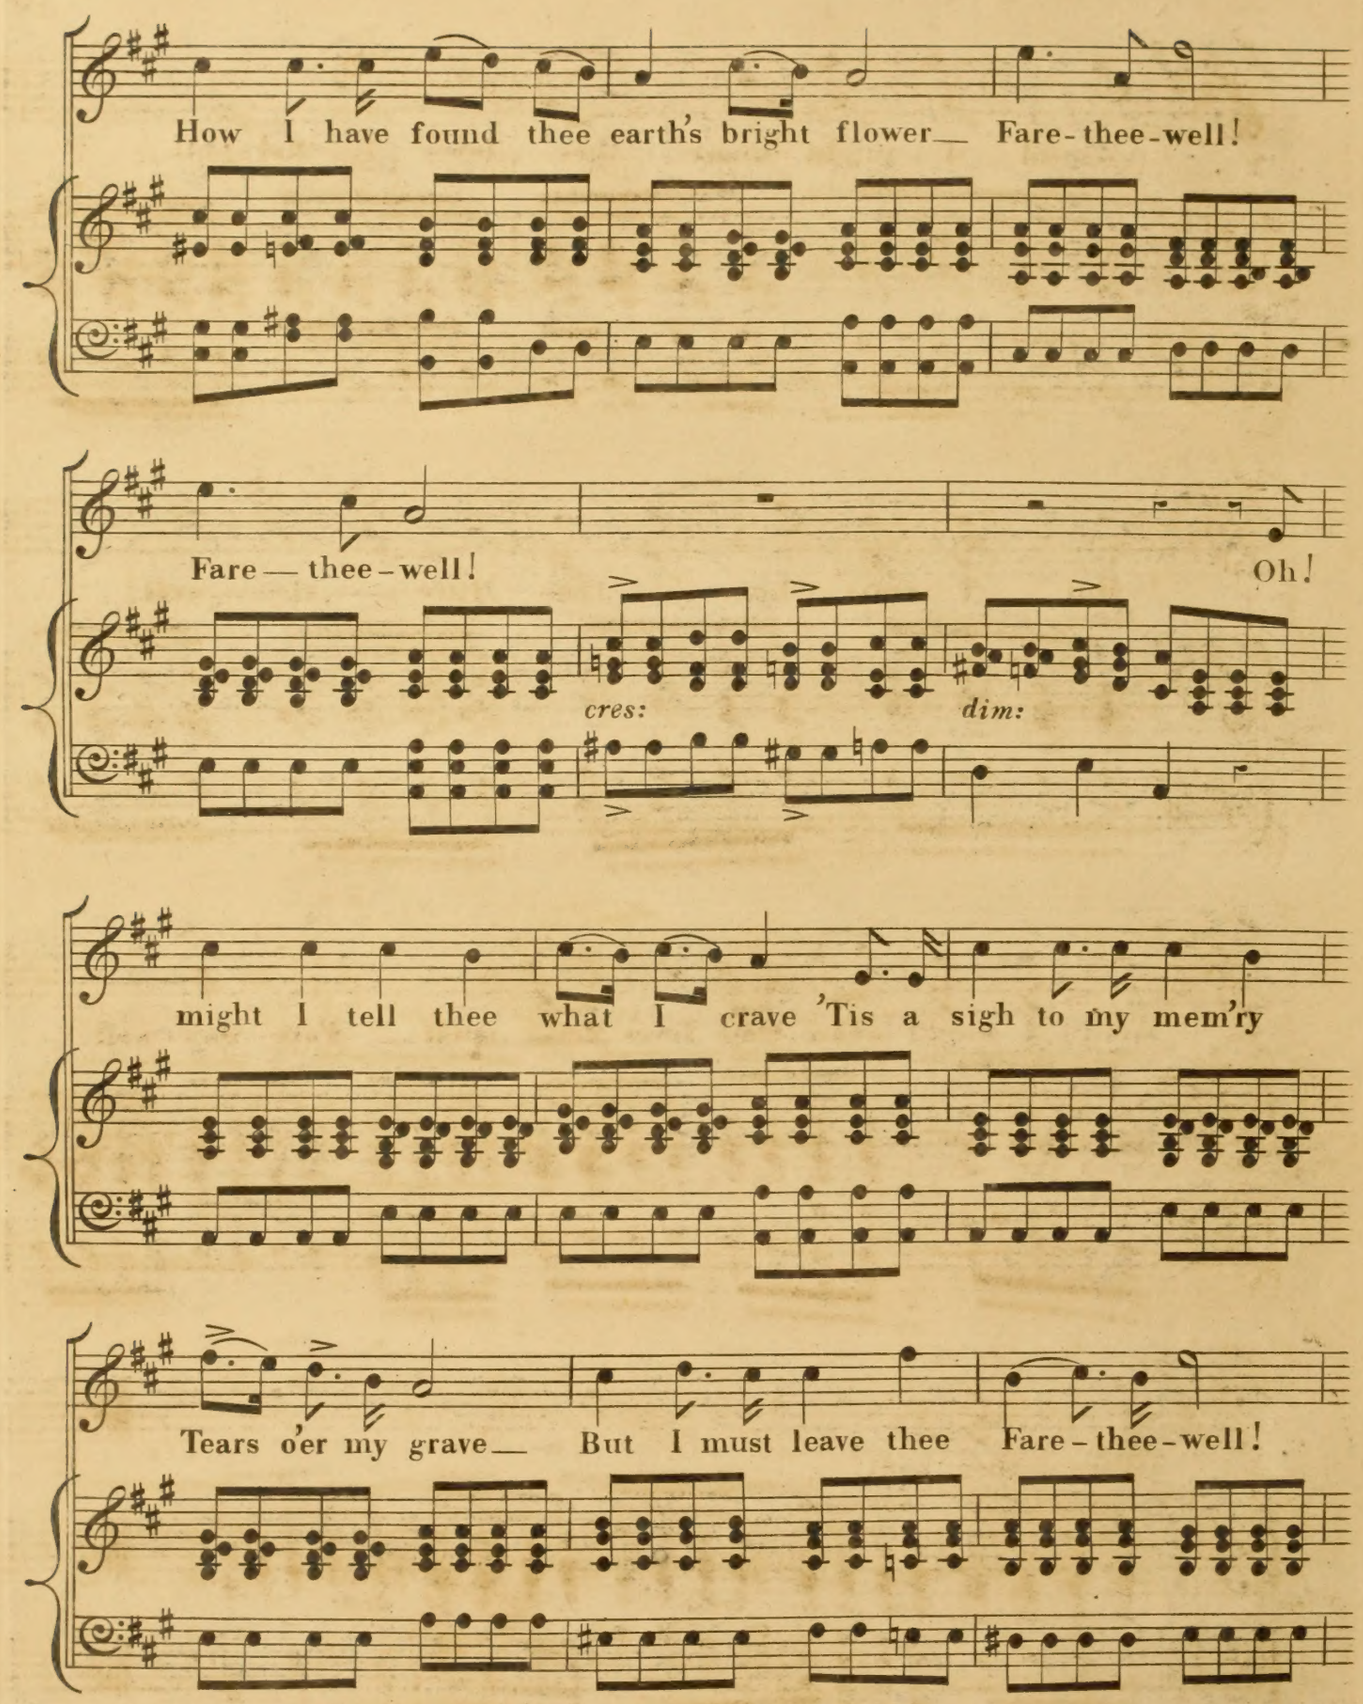
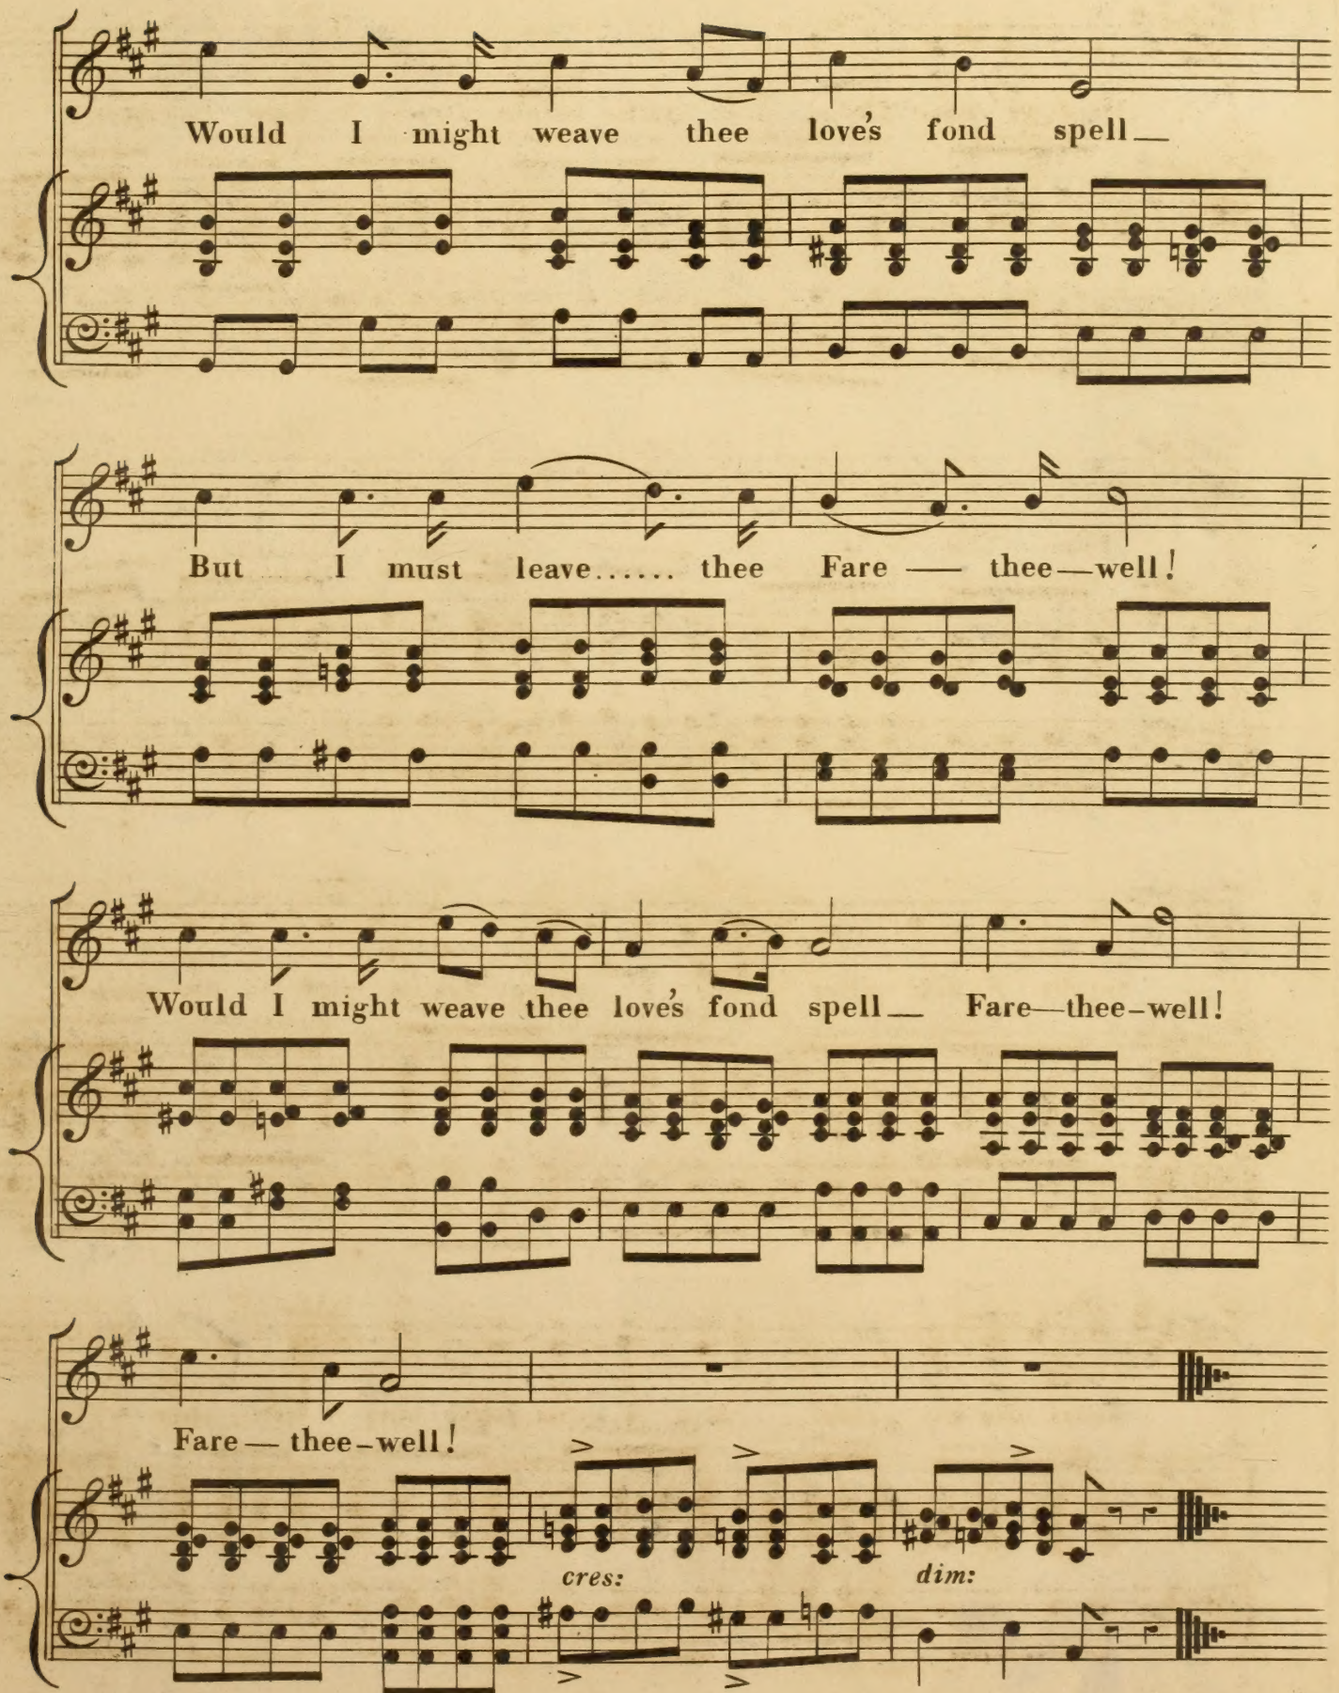
fare — thee — well! My life's sole pleasure I could tell
How I have sought thee In hall.... and bower,
How I have found thee earth's bright flower.
How I have sought thee In hall..... and bower,



How I have found thee earth's bright flower— Fare-thee-well!
Fare — thee-well!
Oh!
cres:
dim:
might I tell thee what I crave 'Tis a sigh to my mem'ry
Tears o'er my grave— But I must leave thee Fare-thee-well!



Would I might weave thee love's fond spell_
But I must leave..... thee Fare — thee—well!
Would I might weave thee love's fond spell_ Fare—thee-well!
Fare — thee-well!
cres:
dim: